

Andrew Mun

Andrew Mun has specialized in corporate finance and within investment banking for over 13 years, with a particular emphasis on executing mergers & acquisitions and financing transactions for growing public and private companies. Mr. Mun has advised both U.S. and international clients in a broad array of industries and product groups including consumer/retail, financial institutions, technology, business services, telecom/media and equity & debt capital markets.

Prior to joining Pulmuone Foods USA, Inc., Mr. Mun was a Senior Vice President at Cappello Capital, a merchant bank based in Santa Monica, CA. Prior to Cappello Capital, Mr. Mun was an Associate Director within the UBS M&A Group in Los Angeles, as well as a member of the Corporate Finance Group and national mergers and acquisitions practice at Houlihan Lokey. At Houlihan, Mr. Mun executed M&A transactions with consumer products & retail companies while also providing fairness opinions and valuation services for companies in a wide array of industries.

Mr. Mun began his career within the investment banking divisions at both PaineWebber Incorporated and Lehman Brothers in New York. He was a corporate financial analyst within the Financial Institutions Group at PaineWebber executing financing and advisory transactions, including sell-side advisory, IPOs, follow-on offerings and private placements with commercial banks, real estate investment trusts and specialty finance companies. He has also focused on mergers and acquisitions and international capital raising activities, for both U.S. and clients in Asia, while with Lehman Brothers in their New York and Seoul, Korea offices.

Mr. Mun sits on the Board of Advisors of M Development & Design (d.b.a. Stella & Jamie), a Los Angeles-based fashion design house serving the women's contemporary bridge collection market. Stella & Jamie designs and manufactures upscale clothing to service high-end boutiques and department stores internationally.

Mr. Mun received an M.B.A. in Finance from The Anderson School at UCLA and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in Finance and Economics, cum laude, from Georgetown University. He continues to actively contribute to UCLA and Georgetown University through speaking engagements and as a mentor and advisor to both undergraduate and graduate students.
